

President's Report
To the
94th Annual Conference
Iowa State Police Association
Waterloo, Iowa
October 12-14, 2026

The men and women of the Waterloo Police Protective Association, Local 12, would like to welcome you to Waterloo for the 94th Annual Conference of the Iowa State Police Association. Local 12 has been working hard to ensure this year's conference is both enjoyable and beneficial for all attendees, and we're proud to host our fellow members from across Iowa.

Over the past six years, the ISPA has taken on significant legislative issues to support and strengthen law enforcement in our state. One of the major accomplishments during this time was our work issues that involve Chapter 411, which provided important protections and clarified expectations for our membership retirement. We continue to actively engage lawmakers as we look for meaningful ways to improve officer quality of life, focusing on the critical challenges of recruitment and retention. These efforts remain at the forefront of our mission to support our membership and ensure agencies across Iowa can attract and keep dedicated professionals.

Another milestone was the creation of the ISPA Legal Defense Fund. In just its first year, the fund has already provided valuable assistance to officers facing critical incidents. Its early success demonstrates the need for continued growth, and we are exploring the possibility of expanding support through associate membership opportunities. Strengthening this resource will help ensure officers can rely on timely, professional, and effective legal assistance when they need it most.

Serving on the ISPA Board of Directors through the challenges of COVID and the evolving needs of Iowa law enforcement has been a privilege. As my time on the board winds down, it comes with mixed emotions. The past six years have been a rewarding experience, working alongside dedicated individuals committed to representing and advocating for law enforcement throughout the state. It has truly been an honor to serve.

I encourage anyone considering board service to reach out to a past or current board member. We would be more than happy to discuss any questions, thoughts, or concerns you may have. Your involvement ensures the continued strength and future success of our association.

In closing, I sincerely want to thank the WPPA membership for trusting me to serve during this time and thank them for all the hard work they have put into the last few years putting this conference together. I look forward to welcoming the new board member and continuing my support of ISPA as a past president. Again, I thank you for attending the 94th Annual ISPA Conference.
